Description

The Siemens 6ES5512-3HC11 is an Interface Module designed for the SIMATIC S5 automation system, specifically for the S5-130/150 series. This module facilitates communication between the central controller and peripheral devices, ensuring reliable data exchange in industrial automation applications. It features one AS512 interface, enabling fault-tolerant communication. The module is compact, measuring approximately 25.00 x 12.00 x 10.00 cm, and weighs around 0.50 kg, making it suitable for installations with space constraints. As a legacy component, the 6ES5512-3HC11 is ideal for maintaining and upgrading existing SIMATIC S5 systems, providing continued support for critical industrial processes.
