Compatibility	SIMATIC S5-115U, S5-135U, S5-155U
Functionality	Single-component scaling with batching functions, serial linking to TI data acquisition modules ME(I)

Description

The Siemens 7MH4405-1AA00 is a data processing module designed for integration within the SIWAREX WPSI system, specifically compatible with SIMATIC S5-115U, S5-135U, and S5-155U systems. This module facilitates single-component scaling with batching functions and enables serial linking to TI data acquisition modules ME(I), enhancing the overall performance and efficiency of industrial automation processes. Key features include high-accuracy data processing, seamless integration within established systems, and reliable operation in industrial environments. Despite its discontinued status, the 7MH4405-1AA00 remains repairable, offering cost-effective advantages over replacement. Repairing this module can extend its usability for ongoing operational needs, ensuring that existing infrastructure remains functional and efficient. They use components approved by the manufacturer, ensuring safety and compliance with the Machinery Directive 2006/42/EC. For more information, visit their website.
