Description

The Siemens 6ES5301-3AB12 is a compact EU interface module designed for the SIMATIC S5 series, facilitating decentralized connections up to 200 meters from the electronic device (ED) to the EKL 484 or CD for central integration. This module features an integrated power supply, ensuring stable operation and reducing the need for additional components. Its robust construction and compatibility with the SIMATIC S5 series make it suitable for demanding production processes where consistent performance is critical.
